

Get Mistletoe-Ready With a New Plumping Lip Gloss

We know you're kiss-worthy already, but we had to share this new line of plumping lip glosses to get you ready for all the mistletoe action you'll see this month (in case you plan on kissing Santa Claus).

At the NewBeauty offices, we had a blast going through the products from Booty Parlor, which makes pheromone-laced creams, powders, bronzers and perfumes, but we especially loved the Kissaholic Aphrodisiac Plumping Lip Gloss ($16) in Tremble and Swoon. It's a high-gloss shine that's not at all sticky, infused with vitamin E and shea butter that leave your lips supersoft.

Ginger root oil and chili fruit extract lend the plumping action and Booty Parlor's special "aphrodisiac" formula contains a mix of ginkgo biloba, ginger, passion flower, muira puama, damiana and phenylethylamine—a natural love potion.

The colors look great on all skin tones and the gloss really plumps up our kissers. Just beware, this little concoction might get you on the naughty list.
